Support international residents in your local area

As of this year, TPIEF has been entrusted by the Prefecture to begin conducting outreach orientation programs. Not a few foreign residents in the region suffer from lack of access to essential information and public services due to language barriers, transportation difficulties and other daily struggles. This project aims to cultivate understanding of Japanese cultural norms and public information by facilitating access to academic institutions, community centres and Japanese language courses, reducing the burden of isolation and helping foreign residents to live more commodiously in the region. All those interested in getting involved in this way on a regional or community level are encouraged to contact us.
